The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 and 5-7 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 respectively of U.S. Patent No. 6,606,775. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because when performing the method recited in claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,606,775 the lever tool moves the control arm away from the steering knuckle and it is inherent that such a separation of these two elements results in positioning the control arm in a biased position at the completion of the leverage operation. An auto mechanic skilled in the art would obviously recognize that a control arm is inherently biased toward the steering knuckle when these elements are separated:

Claims 2-4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 8-9 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 7/6/05.

Applicant's remarks concerning the election of species requirement have been given careful consideration. Inasmuch as the various species have mutually exclusive characteristics additional burdensome searches would have to be performed to examine the additional claims. The election of species requirement is deemed proper and is hereby made FINAL.
